

From the Dallas Business Journal:
<https://www.bizjournals.com/dallas/news/2022/05/04/most-admired-ceos-2022.html>

Want to know the top leaders in North Texas? Check out this list

May 4, 2022, 2:05am CDT Updated: May 4, 2022, 2:18am CDT

After a two-year absence, the Dallas Business Journal is announcing the third class of its Most Admired CEO Awards.

These 18 leaders, who work in a range of industries – from nonprofits to banking and finance, real estate to PR and marketing, tech to logistics and manufacturing, and restaurants to food and beverage – are being honored not only for great stewardship of their companies but specifically for cultivating an inclusive, collaborative culture. These are North Texans that inspire those around them, hold their employees, products and services in the highest regard, run their companies with integrity and are excellent examples of how all companies should be run and managed.

The awards are given to individuals who deliver outstanding performances in guiding their companies to success and contributing to the overall growth of our North Texas business community.

The honorees are CEOs or hold an equivalent position at a company or organization in North Texas.

Click on the gallery below to discover this year's honorees.

The winners will be honored at an event on June 16 and will be featured in a special publication in print and online in the Dallas Business Journal on June 24.

For more information on this year's event, click here.